SAUNDERS AND LEAMAN ARE

tematic fight was made on Mr. Saund ers, the result of which was that he went down to the last place on his ticket, in a race of seven men, when only five could win. E. L. Ryan, who was picked to beat Mr. Saunders, was also defeated, though he beat Saunders by twenty-seven votes. The fifth man, who won the last place, only deman, who won the last place, only defeated Mr. Ryan by eight votes. William P. Leaman, another man usually classed with the machine, who was marked for slaughter, lost out for the committee in Madison Ward. One of his old colleagues, S. C. Shield, of the same ward, went down in the slump. NEW CITY COMMITTEE.

DAY AT THE POLLS DULL IN EXTREME

Fight Against Saunders Spoiled by Split in Opposing Faction.

The day at the polls was dull and uninteresting in the extreme, voters scratching their tickets with an apparent indifference as to results. Though the last days of the campaign had been ent indifference as to results. Though the last days of the campaign had been characterized by deep bitterness between the candidates and a few hot partisans, the great majority seemed in Richmond to take little heed, and not a single exciting instance occurred yesterday at the poils. In Clay and Madison Wards, Clyde Saunders and W. P. ("Dutch") Leaman had their cohorts on hand, and the workers had the appearance or being confident that they would win hands down, in spite of the contest which had begun against them. The fight against Saunders had waned in the last few days, and a spit in the opposing faction worked the ruin of its efforts.

An officer was placed at each polling place to see that order was kept, but the most any of them had to do was to sit down and watch the men as they ame slowly up to east their ballots. There was never a sign of excitement or disturbance, and the primary was probably one of the dullest which has been seen here in many years.

Allexed Liquor Activity.

It was reported that several prominent liquor dealers were actively at work for Judge Mann, while Tucker seemed to have comparatively few men soliciting votes in his behalf.

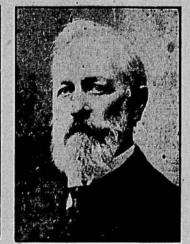

Much interest centred about the fight for seats in the next Legislature, and there was also much interest in the running for positions in the Cliy Democratic Committee. But taking everything as a whole, the day was dull in the extreme, and an outsider would scarcely have guessed that the close of day would see the election of a Governor of Virginia.

MANCHESTER FIGHT CLOSEST ON RECORD

'good and strong" in Manchester yesterday. Indeed, the fight was the closest ever made by any candidates closest ever made by any candidates on the State ticker. William Hodges Mann carried the city by a majority of thirty-eight votes out of the total vote cast, which was exceedingly small, being only $22.

The Mann forces had been conceded the majority in Manchester, and they were greatly surprised when they learned that the figures were so small. Although there had been much talk concerning the probability of there heing challenges of certain voters, who were alleged to have had their poll-taxes paid by others, there was not a single vote challenged in the city, and the election passed off most quietly.

The State ticket was led by D. L. Toney, who received a majority over his opponent, Carter H. Harrison, of Powhatan, for the House of Delegates, of 260.

Colonel Catlett, candidate for the Attorney-Generalship, followed Toney on the ticket with a majority of 148 over his opponent, Judge Williams.

Brown carried the city by 139 majority over his opponent, George W. Koiner, the incumbent Commissioner of Agriculture.

J. Taylor Ellyson carried the city by a majority, or alyty-eight for Light.

Election Passes Off With the Utmost Possible Quiet. The battle of the will a few and the parties of the will be a few and the will be
